Had Mrs. Eddy Lived
Many Kinds of Heaven
Foolish New Dollar
What About Wages?

By Arthur Brisbane

General, 1921, to be sure. Christian Science director, at the Christian Science Monitor has lost 80 per cent. of the circulation. That would not have happened and Mrs. Eddy lived. It would make things go, and did. With all respect for the Christian Science doctrine that personalities do not count, they do count, and God's statement, "Personality is the greatest gift to earth's children," is sound. Besides, Mrs. Eddy would have had an American, not an Englishman, editing the newspaper, for she was a thoroughly American as the State in which she was born.

Conan Doyle describes Heaven—millions have done it in different ways, millions have believed each description. Indians believed in a celestial game preserve, bears and blues for them to kill. The dog and horse went along. Mohammedans planned an eternal cabaret existence, many young ladies, but never your wife, wise and intelligent and did not make you drunk. Some Oriental people imagined a heaven like the inside of a jewelry shop, gold, silver and precious stones, but not a blade of grass. Tired out Astarte, weary of life's struggle, hoped for Jannan's Nirwana, perpetual rest.

Conan Doyle, who says he has talked to the dead, including his own son twenty times, says Heaven is like the earth. He will save his wife, his books, his children.

He does not say so, but presumably he will be boss up there, the same as in good old England. The old become young in Heaven and the young become adults. That's the only change, says he.

What would be your idea of Heaven, if you could plan it to suit yourself? Would you not require at least CHURCH, something to give you struggle and competition, something to keep ambition awake? Could you endure 999,999,999 trillion years without any change or IMPROVEMENT?

To celebrate the Washington conference our mind will coin silver with a broken sword on it. That means war ending and it's a foolish silver dollar.

You have a treaty with Asia. She has no idea of giving up right until freedom from England is gained. You have Europe fighting or planning to fight, for revenge or for safety. You may break the sword of United States power and defense, by dreaming dreams and seeing visions too soon, but that's a nothing to celebrate.

Our experts continue to drop—because that other country is taking what business there is away from us. When, if ever, we get through playing Santa Claus to other nations and fixing their troubles, it would be a good idea to take a little about our own future.

Our important men say publicly that everything is lovely and pick—All is bright about the future. That is not what they say privately. Not what they say, for instance, to their wives. What do they say when they believe.

This country needs intelligent planning for its own industries, its own working men—something more constructive than merely helping railroads to put down wages, which is about all the government has done so far.

We have entered into a treaty, guaranteeing to Japan and England permanent possession of the economically rich Pacific islands that they picked up after the war—taking them from Germany. What about guaranteeing to Chinese workers, who are the ones that they picked up in the war? Would that not be a useful contract?

Or do our superstitious men know that distribution of wealth through good works is to prosper on important as irrigation of land to agriculturists?

Dr. Ignatowski, very learned, says he has proved conclusively that meat is a poison. He directs to all sorts of infirmities. Charity is made by the food you eat, says the learned one. There is much fighting even in spinach and asparagus should not be eaten. It is interesting, BUT! But what good does it do you eat meat-eating nations rule and boss the vegetable nations. They have three hundred million vegetarians in India subject to a few meat-eating Englishmen thousands of miles away. And consider the Japanese. They are all vegetarians. But when they sent their fighting armies to conquer other nations, they took from the Japanese soldier his tub of rice and gave him meat instead.

There is not meat, allowing the deer to change vegetables into venison. Some of the deer will give up meat. Now it means economy to let the cow turn into a pig, and the pig into a beef, and the beef into a pig, and the pig into a beef.

Dynamite Blast on Essex Street

HUNDREDS OF LIVES IN DANGER

Explosion on Construction Site
Hurls Rocks Through Nearby Windows

A dynamite explosion at the new Wendell Phillips building under construction at Essex and Chaucer streets today hurled stone through five windows in the building at No. 64 Essex street, narrowly missing a dozen persons in the building and causing hundreds of frightened persons to flee to safety.

Persons John Gurnea and a group of workmen placed some dynamite under some granite and concrete to blast out for the foundation. It is believed the blast was diverted by a pipe laying nearby.

Stones were thrown through five windows in the store of Thomas J. Flynn, and several customers were temporarily panic-stricken. The store owner, Mr. Flynn, and his wife, Mrs. Flynn, were in the store at the time.

One of the windows in the Frank E. Page Company on the second floor was shattered.

Persons who were in the building at the time of the explosion were not hurt.

Dartmouth to Play Harvard Next Fall

Harvard and Dartmouth are to meet in football next fall. The game—the Saturday originally offered Penn State and then California.

The get-together of the Crimson and Green marks the resumption of football relations between the two institutions after their break in 1911, and is sure to rival the best of the New England colleges.

It seems the plan of Greater Boston Dartmouth graduates for a game in this city, and will be hailed with delight and anticipation by the followers of each of the New England colleges.

MRS. RAIZEN MAY ESCAPE TRIAL FOR SLAYING

New York, Dec. 11.—Mrs. Emma R. Raizen, self-confessed slayer of Dr. Abraham Glickstein, will probably never stand trial for the crime, it was learned today. Her attorneys have agreed that she is insane. Indications are that the prosecution will agree to having her committed to Mattawan.

What They Say About the Whiskey Raid at the Cox Banquet

HAROLD D. WILSON, Federal Enforcement Agent, Who Engineered the Quincey House Raid:

"The raid disclosed an outrage. Why should these men, most of them sworn to uphold the law, be allowed to have liquor when the everyday man and woman are deprived of it?"

ELMER C. POTTER, Federal Prohibition Director for the State of Massachusetts, a Guest at the Banquet:

"I stand squarely behind Mr. Wilson. If he knew liquor was being served he had no alternative but to raid. I myself, saw no liquor. Nobody whispered to me. Presentation of the case is up to Mr. Wilson."

GOVERNOR CHANNING H. OOK, In Whose Honor the Dinner Was Given:

"I was invited to go to a dinner, and went. I saw nothing out of the way. I didn't know a thing about it until I was leaving the hotel and somebody said liquor was being seized. I hope Mr. Wilson felt he was performing his duty and that he had no other purpose in mind. The meeting had no political significance."

MAYOR WALTER H. GREENER, Of Lynn, One of the Guests at the Banquet:

"I saw liquor in a room, but none at the table. The four Democrats at the banquet to the Republican Governor were Colonel Edward L. Logan, John A. Sullivan, Mayor Quinn of Cambridge and myself."

STATE TREASURER JAMES JACKSON: "Nobody offered me a drink."

Tomorrow

It's 20 degrees below zero today in Duluth and the best part of this nice little cold wave is due to strike Boston around noon tomorrow.

Weatherman Smith says offhand that 10 degrees above is about what we may expect. Storm warnings have been hoisted from Delaware Breakwater to Boston.

Cold weather in the West and Northwest is readed Bostonward.

Around White River, Ont., the reading was 30 degrees below today. The coldest place in New England was Greenfield, Me., where it was 20 above.

But a gale of wind is heading toward Boston from the St. Lawrence valley. The temperature is expected to begin dropping in Boston tonight.

WOMAN SEEN IN GUTTER

By International News Service.
New York, Dec. 21.—The body of a well-dressed woman about twenty-three years old, who had been shot to death, was found early today lying in the gutter at Fourteenth avenue and Sixty-sixth street, Brooklyn. Police detectives working on the case believed the woman was shot by a woman in a automobile and the body thrown into the street.

Several persons living in the neighborhood where the body was found could not see a man and a woman in a car passing by the curb garage at the scene of the death.

Their loud talking while several cars were passing nearby prevented them from hearing any shots. The police believe the running motor may have drowned out the noise of the shots.

Anthony Tilton Had Right to Take Ginger for Cramps, Judge Rules

Anthony Tilton of Sixth street Boston, a railroadman attached to the East End station, arrested on a charge of drunkenness for leaving a car riding southbound, was found not guilty by Judge J. J. Connelley.

The judge said the defendant was a very decent fellow, a workman, and that his stomach was not drunk, although an accident.

"Police men are human, the same as the rest of us," Judge Dowd said. "They are entitled to the same consideration as the rest of the community in the performance of their duties. If they are not to be held responsible for the actions of a defendant not guilty, then no one is."

SHUMAN CALLED DEVOTED FATHER

Women Witnesses Defend Reputation of Clinton Manufacturer

Worcester, Dec. 21.—Harold A. Shuman of Clinton is a "home devil and street angel," Mrs. Nellie Shuman of Clinton testified in Federal Court this afternoon. She (Mrs. Shuman) told her last April.

Mrs. E. Louise Fairchild of Clinton testified that Shuman was a "devoted, intelligent, self-sacrificing father."

The latest session of court in the sensational case was attended by a capacity audience and was devoted chiefly to testimony offered in defense of Shuman, who is being sued by his wife for separate support.

One could hardly find a pin drop in the courtroom when Mrs. L. E. Nelson, formerly a servant in the Shuman home, testified that Mrs. Shuman frequently sat in the bath tub smoking cigarettes, and that the children had told their mother to go put some clothes on.

Mrs. James R. Barrett of Grafton, Conn., testified that she saw at the Hotel Touraine with Shuman, his wife and Miss Fienberg, but did not see anything wrong.

Deputy Sheriff Charles C. Sanders of Clinton testified that he would be called out soon after.

"Big Berthas" Were Destroyed, Says Krupp Official

By Universal Service

Berlin, Dec. 21.—The "Big Berthas" were all destroyed within twenty-four hours after the signing of the armistice. At least this is the official declaration of one of the directors of the Krupp works in answer to propaganda launched by the French in the British press to the effect that "Big Berthas" are still in existence and hidden away in Germany.

"All the big guns were destroyed within twenty-four hours after the armistice," said the Krupp official. "They were destroyed at the Krupp works, so for political reasons, but to safeguard their commercial secret from the English and French, and from other German firms."

The Krupp official in Clinton, who was called by Mrs. Shuman, also saw her husband and Mrs. Shuman's daughter, but did not see anything wrong.

GIRL DRUG SLAVE CONTINUES HER CONFESSIONS

Reveals How She Was Compelled to Tell Her Mother of Her Misfortune

to remedy the drug will and that it is to make it impossible for narcotics to be sold for more than medicinal uses.

As long as the dope ring is allowed to smuggle the "vice" into the country there will be "dope fiends."

The woman who sold me my first dose of morphine a little over two years ago moved away shortly afterward. But before she left she introduced me to other drug users from whom I could get my supplies. I pretty well fixed them. Mother and I saved a small sum for the rainy day, and I had money to spend on narcotics. Things are different today.

But I had kept the fact that I had become a drug user from my mother. If I told her I thought it would all still kill her. She had often read articles in the newspapers about drug fiends, what a forsaken lot they must be, and how she would dread to know of her daughter's fate.

THREATENED BY ADDICT. She was soon to learn that her only daughter and support was one of these unfortunate.

It is simply impossible to keep such a secret. Once someone gives you a taste, and no matter what I want, whether alone or with some one, a drug user would approach me on the street and beg for a dose.

One girl was very insistent. She came to my house every Saturday and Sunday and demanded some dope, or the money to buy it, under threat of exposing me to the police, and she threatened to tell my mother what I was doing.

When I came home I was a nervous wreck, and I could not sleep. My mother insisted on calling a doctor, but I knew that the doctor would find out my secret and my mother would be out.

So I told my mother all about it. It was a terrible blow. She is nearly sixty years old, and the shock was all too much for her.

TRAFFICKERS GROW RICH. I explained my condition to her. I could not live without morphine, and she gave me a few dollars to get another "kick."

She said me if it is easy to buy dope in the North End. But my mother said that right here in Boston there are thousands of poor, unfortunate drug addicts.

The easiest part of the town to get it in is the North End. But my mother said that right here in Boston there are thousands of poor, unfortunate drug addicts.

I never saw an American man selling dope. They are too good hearted, and would take pity on a drug slave.

ONG RESIGNS FROM FRUIT COMPANY

Quits Big Concern as Aftermath of Love Drama Disclosures

One of the biggest business sensations of the year has come out of the disclosure of the situation that resulted in the divorce of Walter Scott Pershing and involved conspicuously the name of a wealthy corporation attorney.

This lawyer, Eugene W. Ong, Boston millionaire, vice-president and general counsel of the Fruit and United Fruit Company, a corporation of empire-building magnitude, has resigned his office with the famous concern, of which it was expected he would be president about January 1 next.

His resignation was presented yesterday in Boston at an executive meeting of the company's directors. The New England banking and business men, comprising a majority of the directors, immediately accepted the resignation.

Incidentally, yesterday's meeting of the board was the first scheduled since the revelations. It was the regular Tuesday meeting.

The new development was not unforeseen. Indeed it had been hinted at by persons intimately acquainted with the directors and with the rigid nature of their New England code.

Ong, it was recently reported, had been selected to step into the presidency on or about the beginning of the New Year, to succeed his father-in-law, Andrew W. Pershing. The latter, it was said, would take up the chairmanship of the board of directors to make way for his aspiring son-in-law.

Two questions are now being asked

Pershing Raising His Boy to Fight for America

By Associated Press

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 21.—When Mrs. Daisy Vanevo, mother of a veteran, told little Warren Pershing he didn't want him "to grow up to be a soldier," while General Pershing made a brief stop here en route to spend Christmas holidays with relatives at Lincoln, General Pershing turned to her and said:

"Madam, I want my boy to grow up so that if his country needs him he will be willing to fight for it. We all want to create friendly relations with people of all countries, but if war comes we must accept the challenge."

The lawyer said she hoped "war was going to be made impossible," and the general told her not to "toss away with that notion."

or those who know the trend of events in the councils of the United Fruit Company. They say:

"Will Pershing, who stood by his son-in-law after disclosures were made by the Boston American, remain at the head of the company?"

"Will Ong stay, as his prominence through his marriage, the large stockholding in the company held by Pershing?"

The sensational events of which the American told last week culminated in July 28 last, in a firm divorce, in which Mrs. Pershing charged seduction, but they actually reached their dramatic climax in a New York hotel apartment in October, 1920.

NEW BEDFORD STARTS CAMPAIGN ON RATS

New Bedford, Dec. 21.—Within the next few days the New Bedford board of health will launch an anti-rat campaign, trapping a number each day for the purpose of examination to determine whether any are infected with bubonic plague. This is following the example set by Boston, Portland and other cities on the Atlantic seaboard.

TAX PER CAPITA IN STATE IS $115 A YEAR

Value of Property Exempt From Taxation Is Nearly Half a Billion

The average person in this State pays a tax of $115 a year. The figure was announced today by State Tax Commissioner Henry P. Long in a speech before the Association of Massachusetts Assessors at Springfield.

Long said that the average tax per person was $17 a year for the cost of running the state government. An additional $98 is paid by every person for the cost of running the national government.

Long said that the average deposit per person in the savings banks of the State was $355.75. A year ago it was $345.60.

He said the value of property exempted from taxation was approaching $500,000,000. The State must consider seriously whether it will go any further in this matter of exemption, he said.

Long said that under the new tax law the business corporations were paying taxes amounting to $150,000,000 a year. The former year was $71,000,000.

ACCUSED BY GIRL, IS HELD IN $5,000 BAIL

Arthur Bennett of Northampton, East Boston, was in the East Boston district court today charged with attacking twelve-year-old Helen Wilson of the same address where his parents own a lodging house. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $5,000 bail. The assault is alleged to have taken place yesterday when the little girl carried a cup of tea to the room occupied by Bennett. She was taken to the East Boston Relief Hospital, where she was treated by Dr. Charles Lynch. According to the police Bennett has served a six-month sentence in the House of Correction on conviction of a similar offense.

Fresh From Paris Latest Word From Marie Suzanne

Paris, France. A sketched above, both from Paris, and each charmingly distinctive in detail. Gray velours de laine, in the sketch at the left, is banded up and down and around with squirrel fur to make the coat of the tailor interesting. It then blossoms over a string girdle at the natural waistline, and below this acquires additional fullness; far applied to the sleeves a little above the cuff. The circular skirt is decidedly full and only moderately long. A black cloth is cut on the same slender lines found in this season's smartest frocks to make a coat. The turned over collar, the wide cuffs affixed to narrow sleeves and half of the skirt are of caracul fur which contrasts richly with the loline. A black silk cord twisted ends serves as a belt. The discerning Parisienne's choice for daytime wear is frequently a hat of black panne that uses green feathers touched with red and yellow as its trimming.

MISS HICKEY AGAIN ELECTED IN BROCKTON

Brockton, Dec. 21.—Miss Margaret Hickey has been unanimously re-elected president of the Brockton Telephone Operators' Union. Miss Hickey was the center of the storm that nearly caused a strike of the local operators a few weeks ago after she had been discharged from her position as supervisor by Miss Lena Sherman, chief operator. Miss Florence Boardman of Whitman was re-elected financial secretary and treasurer.

GIRL WHO AIDED IN CAPTURE GETS $50

Other Half of Reward for Snaring Escaped Convict Berwin Goes to Police

Miss Josephine Ireland of Ward street, Newton Centre, who notified the police and aided in the capture of Harry Berwin, the convict who escaped from the Charlestown State Prison last Friday in a packing case, will receive but half the reward of $100 offered by the State, according to the decision of Warden Shattuck announced today.

Warden Shattuck, after investigating the circumstances of the capture of Berwin, has just mailed Miss Ireland a check for $50. Another check for $50 was sent to Chief of Police Fred Mitchell of Newton, with the suggestion that he divide it as he sees fit between Patrolmen Haney, Burke and Jaquin, who arrested Berwin.

Miss Ireland saw Berwin breaking into the home of Louis O. Crane in Westborne road, Newton Centre, and called the police.

Berwin has been transferred from the bootery to the shoe department of the prison. It is expected his indictment for abducting a woman, subject of the January Grand Jury. A father prisoner in under suspicion of aiding in Berwin's escape by smuggling civilian clothing to him.

STEEPLE JACK, TRAPPED 5 HOURS 250 FEET UP, RESCUED BY HERO

GOT YOURS YET? Miss Lina Hooper, 25 Cumberland St., Providence, is awarded $5 in the Pretty Material Test. Address Pictorial Editor.

KISS ME, IT'S CHRISTMAS! Be fashionable and send 'em by postcard. Just rouge the lips well, then kiss the postcard. Dorothy Southoff (above) created the id. (Int.)

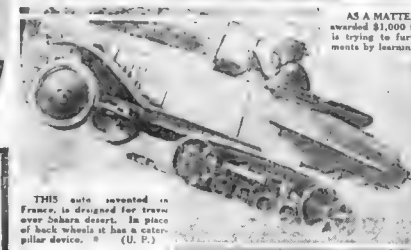

THE THRILL OF A LIFETIME! In many ways this is one of the most remarkable pictures ever presented on this page. Taken less than a minute after Frank Elliott and mechanics escaped death when their big car crashed into fence during race at San Francisco Speedway. Arrow points to the two men. Scowls on truck is where engine and hood rolled down just two seconds after Murphy (winner) and Milton (second) passed spot.

DADDY, Buy Me One of These? The conspicuous feature of this Bolina coat, for school wear, is its rich simplicity. Cut on youthful lines, it appeals to the younger girl. An exclusive Boston American advance fashion.

AS A MATTER OF FORM! Gertrude M. Eggert, awarded $1,000 for most beautiful figure in U. S., is trying to further increase her natural endowments by learning jiu jitsu. (W. W.)

THIS auto invented in France, is designed for travel over Sahara desert. In place of back wheels it has a caterpillar device. (U. P.)

GOING BACK! Prince J. Kulis, Kalaninole, Hawaiian delegate to Congress for 10 years, will return to his people. Says he can serve them best at home. (U. P.)

CLEARING UP A FOGGY SUBJECT! London, perhaps the foggiest community in the world, may be fogless hereafter if the invention of the London Medical Supply Association proves successful. The device is in the form of a glass cabinet, in which revolve 10 large glass plates, side by side. In front of the cabinet are two adjustable brass balls. The plates are revolved at tremendous rates, thus generating electricity. (K.)

ROY SUTTON (above, at right), a steeplejack, was marooned 250 feet atop a chimney when a pulley broke at a Chicago plant. Firemen tried in vain to shoot him a rope. Wind nearly blew him off. Arrow points to Sutton. Had been there 5 hours, when Earl Olson, fellow-worker, had fire quenched and climbed up inside the chimney with a pulley attachment. (Int.)

GIRLS are always wanting something around them. If it isn't their waists, it's their ankles. But with knee-length skirts, one must have pretty ankles, so the new ankle corset has come into vogue. Very similar to a d. fashioned ankle supporter.

THE TOUCH That Tall! President Harding has become an ardent advocate of the finger print system and has even had impressions of his own digits made. Above is shown an enlarged impression of his right hand made a finger. Study it closely. Your own greatly resembles it! The whirle and lines tell the story. (K.)

ROLL THEM BONES! These are bones, but not the kind that roll. J. W. Lytle, bone articulator at Los Angeles museum, is pictured with part of his 10,000,000 collection. Most of them were taken from Rancho La Brea, near Los Angeles. (K.)

NOW ALTOGETHER! The Boston American Christmas Basket Fund needs your aid. Give today! Dorothy and Frank Ramsey, dance pupils of Amelia Burnham, are helping the fund. They performed at Copley-Plaza hall. No contribution is too small.

MRS. HOWARD PHELPS, one of the greatest map experts in the U. S. New map authority for State Department. Served as map expert at arms parity for U. S. (W. W.)

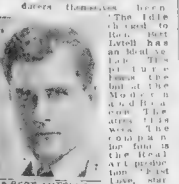

A RINGER FOR STYLE! You're quite wrong. It isn't a form of bone knuckle. It's the latest thing in finger jewelry—direct from the forests of Nigeria, Africa. Replacing the conventional stone is a piece of metal rod, with the manure spoonhead soldered to the top. (U. P.)

A DEFENSIVE PROGRAM FOR THE UNITED STATES

First, a navy equal to that of any power which threatens to attack us, whether that force be a single nation or an alliance of nations.

Second, a sufficient air fleet and a sufficient submarine fleet fully to protect our coasts and prevent the landing of hostile troops, even if our navy should be destroyed in action.

Third, a merchant marine to be used for the development of our commerce in times of peace, and the protection of our commerce in times of war.

Fourth, a military training for our boys in public schools which will both strengthen them physically and enable them, with slight additional preparation, to become a defensive guard if their country should ever be invaded.

Fifth, national universities similar to those at West Point and Annapolis, whose graduates, in addition to a general scientific course, shall acquire a sufficient military education to enable them to be officers in case their country at any time should call them to its defense.

Finally, fortified naval bases from which our fleets could operate to keep the devastation of war far from our own shores.

This is not an offensive program. It is purely a defensive one. It cannot arouse any opposition from any power which does not contemplate the possibility of attacking us.

When a nation like Japan objects to stationary fortifications it merely objects to preparation for defense against contemplated attack.

And when a nation like England objects to a submarine fleet to patrol and protect our coasts, it objects merely to the effective opposition that would be offered to a descent upon our coasts similar to that which England made in 1814, when she landed her troops on our soil and burned the Capitol at Washington and the White House of the President.

Words are good when backed by deeds and only so, as Roosevelt said, and as Washington said a hundred years before him. Certainly words are not good when they are in direct contradiction to previous deeds and characteristic practices.

Therefore, our people should not be misled by deceitful words and false promises if they have enough education to know the true facts of history, and the confirmed courses which nations like England and Japan have pursued in the past toward their rivals.

As Bad as League of Nations

Senator Reed Shows That Republican Senators Favoring Four-Party Treaty Were Against Old Covenant for Partisan Reasons

In a speech which was made in the Senate last Friday, and which was most unusual, when you consider the little time that he had to prepare it, the distinguished Senator Reed from Missouri attacked the proposed treaty between Japan, France, Great Britain and the United States, concerning the imperialistic interests of these countries in the Pacific.

All through his able speech Senator Reed made it apparent that those Republican Senators, who, like Mr. Lodge, had opposed the covenant of the League of Nations, now stood revealed as having opposed it for partisan reasons. For this four-party treaty entangles us in as many objectionable alliances and makes us undertake to guarantee imperialistic possessions as dangerous to the peace of the world as those involved in the League of Nations.

Senator Reed closed his speech in a brief summary which our citizens ought all to remember:

I wonder what the people of the Pacific coast think of their new protector. I wonder how much confidence springs to the hearts of the American people when they think: "If any of our possessions in the Pacific should be attacked, we have Japan to rely on." With what serene confidence we could go to bed at night and say, "Japan is looking after the Philippines!" Why not junk our navy altogether, and just trust this whole thing to Japan and Great Britain?

What do we receive from this treaty? I am not referring to the matter of disarmament, as we sometimes call it, though it is a misnomer—the reduction of armament. Of course, we suffer most by that; but I am not discussing that question. What do we get out of the treaty of alliance? We have no oriental possessions except the Philippine Islands. We ought to give the Philippines their liberty, and I am in favor of doing it. We have two or three coaling stations. We have trade in China, as we have with every other country in the world; but is it seriously menaced, and if so, is it protected by this treaty? If it is menaced, then who is menacing it? Our new ally and Great Britain are the only countries that are pretending to assert any authority that could menace it. If we were entirely shut out of China tomorrow, it would mean some loss of trade; but the nation closing the door of China in our face could be brought to time very speedily, for it is much more important to that nation to have trade with the American Republic than it is to shut America out of the trade of China.

What, then, do we get? Substantially nothing.

What do the other parties to this compact get? All the islands of the Pacific Ocean, outside of the Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands, are owned by these other nations, or controlled by them, or claimed by them. They get our contract to defend these islands that are "scattered like lilacs" over the ocean. They get our contract to defend the whole domain of Japan, for, as I have shown, Japan is all invader. They get our contract to preserve their peace, even though China might rise some day to demand back the loot. They get our contract to defend these islands, even though Russia should some day seek to drive the Japs from her soil, and in so doing to take possession of islands along her coast. They get our contract that we, with our men and our money, with our blood and our treasure, with our army and our navy, will respond to the "understanding as to the most efficient measures to be taken, jointly or separately, to meet the exigencies of the particular occasion"—which is a war, as shown by the context.

Why, then, should we make this treaty? What good sense is there in making this treaty? Is it to get rid of Anglo-Japanese alliance? If it be true that Great Britain, notwithstanding our ties of blood and our ties of language and of trade, notwithstanding all the professions of friendship and brotherly love we have heard in the last three or four years, has a treaty with Japan which menaces the American Republic, then let us know it, and I want no treaty with Great Britain after that. If that be the temper of their spirit, if that be the thought in their hearts, if that be their purpose toward us, then the more complete our disavowment and the sooner it comes the better for this republic.

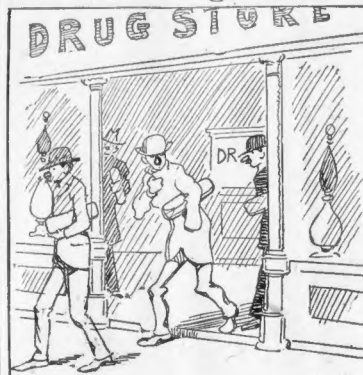

Fordney's Tax Cutting

COPYRIGHT, 1921, Star Company

Mr. Fordney, fixing up taxes for Congress, says he will save $7 for every American. He won't do exactly that, for more than 90,000,000 Americans don't pay tax to the national government. He cuts $450,000,000 off the Excess Profit tax—that doesn't mean much to the average mortal. He cuts $300,000,000 off high income taxes paid by very rich men. That leaves more than 100,000,000 Americans cold.

However, cutting must be done. We have learned that in this country you cannot successfully lax wealth. The only result of your effort is to discourage business and put men out of work.

Christmas in France

PARIS, Dec. 21.—Observance of Christmas as a lay as well as a church festival seems to be gaining ground in France. Though the State is now entirely separate from the Church, as it is in the United States, Christmas is still a legal holiday and is celebrated with much enthusiasm.

In the world of business, extensive preparations for its celebration are made, jointly with that of New Year's, which is the time for merry-making.

The big stores have special Christmas departments, with decorated trees, candles, electric lights, gay paper ribbons, "expositions" of toys and "Christmas" sales. The periodicals issue special numbers and the church services are exceptionally well attended.

St. Nicholas is not originally a French character. In former days his place in the French infant world was taken by that of St. Jean, who visited little children that night, bringing them gifts of toys and cakes besides his blessing.

Letters to the Editor

Editor Boston American:

The American Civil Liberties Union is conducting a vigorous campaign at Washington for the speedy release of the 147 remaining Federal political prisoners, convicted under the Espionage Act and other war laws.

The delay is the granting of amnesty to the political prisoners is a disgrace to our country. Responsibility lies with President Harding. Why does he postpone the one act that shows all decent people the people to put the arm of a man in a jam-smoking car on a narrow gauge train, then clear across the back of the case now?
